

بِسْمِ اللَّهِ الرَّحْمَنِ الرَّحِيمِ

Introduction

الحمد لله رب العالمين والصلوة والسلام على أشرف الأنبياء والمرسلين، نبينا محمد وعلى آله وصحبه أجمعين

1. This is an index of the major Arabic terms used in the three Medinah books. Since almost all concepts are explained in the English key, the index points to the book and page number for the English key only. Once the topic is found in the English key, the corresponding lesson in the main Arabic text can be referred to for additional examples and exercises
2. The format used for reference is <English Key Book Number>:<Page Number>
For example: 2:52, means English key for Book 2, page number 52
3. Where the same topic is discussed at multiple places, effort has been made to list all those references
4. To show links between related topics, following convention is used:
 - . ر Stands for رَاجِعْ (refer, see). No page reference is given in this case. See the referred item, to get the page reference
 - . رأ stands for رَاجِعْ أَيْضًا (refer also, see also)
5. Wherever possible only the singular and indefinite word has been used
6. The Arabic words are selected as they appear on the respective page of the English key. However, in some cases, the reader will not find the indexed Arabic word on the page specified. In these cases, that page contains one of the following:
 - i. The English translation or transliteration of the Arabic word, e.g. 3:94 contains the word masdar mu'awwal, which is indexed under مَصْدَرٌ مُؤَوَّلٌ. Also page 3:33 contains the word "proper noun", however it is indexed under عَلَمٌ
 - ii. The pattern described in words instead of being written as a pattern, e.g. 3:98 contains the explanation of how ism al-fâ'il is formed in words with some examples including مُنْكَسِرٌ however it is indexed under مُنْفَعِلٌ (وَزْنٌ). When encountered with an indexed word, which is a pattern, the reader is encouraged to look for words, which follow that pattern on the specified page

iii. A related rule for the specified topic without using the name of that topic. E.g. the index contains لَا النَّافِيَةُ with one of the page reference of 2:39. However, while this page introduces the use of لَا with مُضَارِعٌ, it does not mention it by its name لَا النَّافِيَةُ. In most cases, if the reader has studied Madinah Books, he/she will be able to make the connection. Otherwise it is recommended that the reader refer to other pages, which are referred for the same indexed topic.

7. English translation or transliteration is also provided for each indexed topic. However, the topics are not sorted by the English words. In a softcopy of the index, reader may use the program's search feature to look for English words.

8. Verb conjugation forms are represented using ذَهَبَ يَذْهَبُ
